

The St David's Primary School Curriculum

For Years 1 – 6

Introduction

Here at St David's, we feel excited and positive about the changes the National Curriculum 2014/15 has provided for us. As a team, we embrace the opportunities the curriculum offers such as:

- Freedom to explore the children's natural curiosity through their own ways of thinking, questioning and lines of enquiry, as many of the subjects now offer this flexibility.
- The potential to refocus our school curriculum that centres itself on our children, their passions and interests, our school-life and its place in our unique community.

We aim to:

- nurture our children to become life-long learners with a thirst for exploration, knowledge and understanding
- foster and celebrate our children and the skills they develop over time giving them the foundations to approach life with confidence.

Our enquiry-based curriculum allows our children to reach higher, lifting the lid on set learning intentions, freeing them to soar and reach their full potential. Through focusing on our children's interests, we create learning opportunities that inspire critical thinking, foster creativity and nurture talent. Our curriculum ensures breadth and depth of knowledge, skill and understanding within a nurturing vibrant and vital school. We want our children to feel safe to question, ponder and wonder about the world around them. Our Learner Values encourage them to think about how they are learning and not just what they are learning. We equip our children to celebrate the skills and talents of their peers in a positive way.

Our School Aims and beliefs

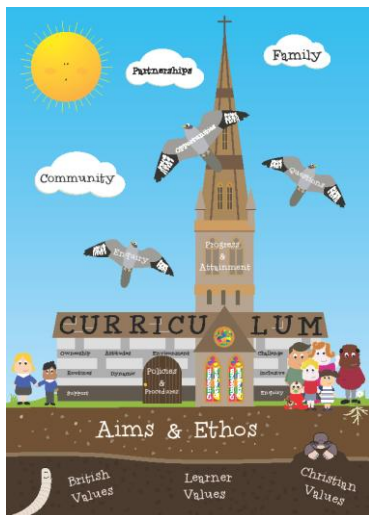

- to develop lively, enquiring minds together with a willingness to ask questions and to debate rationally
- to think and act creatively and with imagination
- to gain knowledge, skills and understanding appropriate to a fast- changing world, so they may be self-reliant and adaptable
- to develop an understanding of the past which will help them to live successfully in the present, and to plan intelligently for the future
- to grow in confidence and independence, and to learn the value of co-operation
- to encourage and explore their own spirituality
- to consider thoughtfully their own feelings, attitudes, values and beliefs and to respect these in others
- to achieve their true potential, and to take pride in that achievement, whilst taking pleasure in the achievement of others.

The St David's Primary Curriculum

This image below illustrates pictorially the vision and values that underpin the St David's curriculum.

The Foundations

Learner Values, Christian Values and British values

At our school, learner values underpin all that we think and do. These are our tools to articulate our findings and discoveries, making links to real-life situations, celebrating and valuing others and prompting questioning that steers learning in all sorts of exciting directions, led by our children and effectively planned by all teaching staff.

Our Christian Values of Justice, Compassion, Trust, Friendship, Forgiveness and Respect hold us firm to how we approach daily life at school. The fundamental British Values of democracy, rules of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance are integral to everything we do.

At St David's Primary School we aim to develop children who are:

ENQUIRERS	They: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Develop natural curiosity.• Acquire enquiry and research skills.• Become independent, self-motivated learners.• Have a love of learning that will be sustained through life.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Are we curious?• Do we know how to find things out?• Do we ask the right kinds of questions?• Do we love learning because it is fascinating and fun?

The Church

The door opens to provide access to a rich and vibrant curriculum that is underpinned by National and Local policy. The curriculum framework illustrates what happens in each class and details our school expectations.

All documents can be found on our school website www.stdavidsprimary.devon.sch.uk/website

The building bricks of our church show the various subjects areas and how we co-construct our learning together across year groups. The mortar that links our curriculum bricks represents how we approach the subject areas and ensures accessibility for all learners.

The steeple represents our Progress and Attainment – always reaching higher, lifting the lid on set learning intentions and making sure we never plateau but keep striving to reach our full potential.

The Sky

Soaring in the sky are the Peregrine Falcons that reside in the steeple of St Michael's church that towers above our school. These birds represent our enquiry, opportunities and questioning – weaving in and out, constantly moving and changing direction depending where our learning steers us.

Our Learning Document

The following document presents you with not only the statutory outline of core knowledge as expected by the National Curriculum, but our wider school curriculum that acknowledges and celebrates our wonderful children and the vibrant community in which our school is positioned.

Our school curriculum is presented as two columns. The first column details the main statutory requirements for each subject area in every year group as stated by the National Curriculum – be mindful, this is just a summary, please search the national curriculum online if you would like to read the complete document.

The second column illustrates how our wider St David's curriculum is tailored to bring certain subject areas to life through detailed planning that enhances our children's school experiences and will evolve, develop and change as time passes and our children grow - ensuring we, too, grow with them. These details will be shown in italics and our school colour. The statutory requirements will remain in normal print.

As stated, our school curriculum is a 'working document' and is not meant to be presented as a finished piece but an on-going, evolving plan of teaching and learning that lifts the lid on set learning objectives and encourages breadth and depth of knowledge, skill and understanding for our whole school community.

The remainder of this document will now detail our programme of study. It will start with the National Curriculum core subject areas (English, Maths and Science) followed by the foundation subjects in no particular order. It will conclude with Religious Education (RE), which is a statutory subject but not part of the National Curriculum.

All statutory requirements will be in normal print and non-statutory requirements in italics.

Just a reminder, this is a working document that will be added to and developed over time when appropriate.

How we personalise our wider school curriculum to celebrate our children's interests and passions will be detailed in italics and our school colour.

We hope you continue to enjoy reading our school curriculum. We are a unique, city centre school, with a vibrant, welcoming, village feel. We promote a curriculum that allows our children to develop as articulate and curious learners who have the skills to become life-long learners with a quest for knowledge and the skills to access it.
